Objectives of the women participation in politics

The objectives of studying the implications of women's participation in politics include assessing the impact on policy-making, governance, and societal representation. It aims to evaluate how increased female representation influences the prioritization of issues like education, healthcare, and gender equality. Additionally, it examines barriers women face in political environments, such as discrimination and unequal access to leadership roles. The objective is also to explore how women's involvement enhances democratic processes, diversifies political perspectives, and promotes more inclusive, equitable governance systems, contributing to societal progress and sustainable development at local, national, and global levels.
